DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 6-9 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 6, line 4, there is a lack of antecedent basis for the short sides. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee.

Lee discloses in figures 1-5 a human body support device comprising a base unit 11, intended to rest on a horizontal surface, an elongated generally upright element 110, extending from the base, a pelvis support (42, 44), attached to the upright (both elements are integral with the device), the support includes a means (42, 44) for encircling the pelvis, a seat 26, the upright includes a resilient means (col. 6, lines 21-25), a chest support (102, 104), means (92, 98), for encircling the chest and a leg divider (12, 14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3772

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee in view of Katane '954.

Lee discloses in figures 1-5 a human body device, substantially as claimed. However, Lee doesn't disclose the device including a headrest. Katane teaches in figure 1 a headrest that is displaceable (moveable upward and downward). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that the headrest as taught by Katane could be incorporated into the device disclosed by Lee in order to use the headrest to support the user's head.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee in view of Albett GB '045.

Lee discloses in figures 1-5 a human body support, substantially as claimed. However, Lee doesn't disclose base being supported by wheels. Albett teaches in figure 1 a human body support comprising a base 10 that is supported by wheels 11. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that the wheels as taught by Albett could be incorporated into the base disclosed by Lee in order to be able to move the device without having to lift it.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. No additional prior art was cited in this office action.
